ELBERT H. GARY URGES LAWS TO PROTECT CAPITAL AND LABOR

UNIONS ONE HIGH PRICE CAUSE, HE CHARGES

Steel Magnate Not Entirely In Accord With Finding at Conference

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Comprehensive laws, rather than voluntary arbitration, are necessary to absolutely protect every one against imposition on the part of capital or labor," Judge Elbert H. Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation, declared in a statement today.

Judge Gary plainly intimated he was not entirely in accord with the recommendations made yesterday by President Wilson's industrial conference for settlement of disputes between capital and labor. He was a member of the previous group that attempted to make recommendations for solution of the industrial problem.

The steel magnate referred to the present labor troubles as disputes between labor union leaders and the managers of business.

He declared "the public must know that labor unions have decreased production, added to the costs and raised the expenses of living."

"I venture the assertion that if the public is disposed to absolutely protect every one against imposition on the part of 'capital and labor' it should not be dependent on voluntary arbitration but should establish and administer law which will have complete jurisdiction over both groups of citizens," he said.

Would Protect All

"The public could then rely upon the continuance without interruption of the enforcement of law and order, so that every individual or interest shall be protected in freedom of action or non-action. So long as there is no opposition to the statutes in force."

The employers and the body of employees clearly recognize that it is for the pecuniary interest of both to maintain peaceful and friendly relations, and every honest minded person admits this will redound to the benefit and comfort of the general public.

"At this time I think it essential that the general public be given the opportunity to clearly understand the exact labor situation. In the United States it is not so bad as it is made to appear by some of the public speakers and writers, particularly those who are not by experience or otherwise qualified to testify or express opinions.

"There have been instituted in the past year a good many strikes and there have been in places, disorder, riot and injury to persons and property. These strikes did not represent antagonism between 'capital and labor,' so called. In most, if not all instances they were precipitated by union labor leaders acting on their own initiative. The differences, disputes and contests have been between labor union leaders and the managers of business.

"Little Serious Trouble

"In few, if any cases has there been any serious trouble between the managers of industry and the employees generally, or any reasonable claims on the part of the majority of the employees for higher wages or more favorable conditions which were not promptly and mutually adjusted. In fact, for a long time, the employees in this country have been receiving larger compensation and better working conditions than ever before. The large majority of the employees of this country, probably not less than 85 per cent, are not members of labor unions and are satisfied with their working conditions.

"If any have good reason for complaint, the employers, when informed, must and will furnish a prompt and adequate remedy. I do not wish at this time to discuss the merits or demerits of labor unions. The unions must know in the past they have, in proportion to their influence,

British Model To Make Stage Debut Before Americans

Beauty Has Contract With New York Producer For Broadway Play

Miss Balfour has been a model for painters and sculptors in Europe for some time, but wishes to reach a wider field so has chosen the stage. Her beauty of face and figure have been used so much in art works in Europe as to inspire poets to write of her.

Miss Balfour has shown decided stage ability and for some time has been coached for the speaking stage. It is stated that she already has a contract with a big New York producer and will be seen on Broadway within the next few months.

ARRANGE TO GIVE ROADS BACK TO OWNERS

Salt Lake and P. E. May Start Building Projects Here Anew

WITH the definite announcement from Washington that railroads are to be turned back to private control on March 1, railroad officials in Southern California have commenced making plans for breaking up united railroads into the units that existed before the government, as a war measure, took charge of the roads.

The phase of the return of the railroads to private control of greatest interest here will be the question of railroad building. When a stop was put to competitive railroad construction, plans for the Salt Lake to build to Santa Ana and plans of the Pacific Electric to build from Santa Ana through Tustin to the San Joaquin Fruit Co. property and to Irvine were interrupted.

Other railroad building projects were also stopped, one being the plan of the P. E. to build a freight line connection from Orange to the S. P. Tustin branch north of Orange. Just how soon after March 1 steps will be taken to carry out the projects that were halted cannot be determined now.

In Santa Ana, the Southern Pacific freight and passenger depots will be re-opened to take care of Southern Pacific business.

Salt Lake Offices.

It is expected, too, that the Salt Lake will re-open offices here and proceed to carry forward its project for building its line into Santa Ana. Most of the right-of-way had been secured by the Salt Lake, condemnation proceedings were started for portions of rights of way, and actual construction in the vicinity of Whittier had been started by the Salt Lake when the government called a halt to all railroad development not necessitated by war needs.

The Santa Fe will continue its business, of course, in its own depot, in which, under federal control, the local steam railroad businesses were consolidated.

It was learned here today that railroad officials in Los Angeles are already making plans for reorganization, each road for its own business. Many of the railroad men whose work was disarranged by the consolidations will return to their former positions. Many others have entered into employment along other lines and will not return to railroad work. It is expected that local employees in freight and passenger work so far as practical will be in their old positions.

Will Resume Competition.

The railroads are expected to enter into competition for business. Santa Ana, Pomona and a number of other places in Southern California have had actual consolidation of freight as well as passenger businesses, while all conducted under federal orders and arrangements, were never actually consolidated in one yard.

It is believed now that the railroads will endeavor to maintain a consolidated city ticket office in Los Angeles, where tickets for any of the roads can be obtained. No such consolidated ticket office is likely in the smaller cities of Southern California.

State Road Program May Be Delayed By Slow Bond Sales

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 30.—The million dollar a month program of the state highway commission, scheduled to start with the beginning of the new year, probably cannot be carried out as programmed, it became known today.

Friend W. Richardson, state treasurer, said there appeared little market for the $12,000,000 in bonds voted for road work purposes, and that the $3,000,000 in bonds held by the state have not been sold. If the state is to meet emergency demands for funds, those $3,000,000 in bonds must be turned into cash.

A special meeting of the advisory board will be held Monday to consider the situation.

The highway program was to have begun January 1.

PERSONS GIVING COURT SECRETS MAY BE NABBED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The government today determined to prosecute persons who may be responsible for "leaks" from the United States supreme court.

Announcement was made by Attorney General Palmer that evidence contained by the bureau of investigation of the justice department, on charges that important decisions have been known in Wall street before they were announced by the court will be submitted to a grand jury in the District of Columbia some time today.

BOND ISSUE REPORT IS EXPECTED IN WEEK

Newport Heights Irrigation Project May Be Under Way Quickly

A favorable report upon the proposed $160,000 bond issue of the Newport Heights Irrigation District is expected by the first of next week from the State Irrigation Bond Commission.

With the money to be raised by the sale of the bonds, the district, comprising about 1400 acres, will put in a pumping plant and a distributing system for irrigation water.

The tract lies south of the Newport boulevard on the mesa between the boulevard and the bay.

Several weeks ago the bonds were referred to the bond commission for its approval, without which the bonds cannot be offered for sale.

This commission is composed of the state banking commissioner, the state engineer and the state attorney general.

According to information received today, the transcript of the proceedings for the bond issue will probably reach the state engineer's office today for attachment of a certificate showing the state engineer's approval of the project.

Attorney J. A. Harvey, representing the district, has also been informed that the approval of the bonds will probably reach him by the first of next week.

The bonds will then be offered for sale. It is the hope of the property owners of the district to hasten the completion of the irrigation plant so that water may be produced by it for use on their lands next summer.

Dr. Osler, Noted Physician, Dies in England, Aged 70

Man Who Advocated Ending Man's Life at 60 Has View Changed

OXFORD, England, Dec. 30.—Sir William Osler, noted physician, who in 1905 said that a man at the age of 40 loses his efficiency and should be chloroformed at the age of 60, died here last night at the age of 70 years.

Dr. Osler was a native of Canada, having been born in 1849. He was educated at Trinity college in Toronto and studied medicine at the Toronto School of Medicine and McGill university at Montreal.

He was called to the chair of clinical medicine at the University of Pennsylvania in 1884 and from there he went the following year to the College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, to become Gladstonian lecturer. Shortly after he became Cartwright lecturer in New York's College of Physicians and Surgeons. His most brilliant work perhaps was accomplished while he was professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. Osler's statement that man's apex of efficiency was reached at 40 and that when he was three score years old he should be chloroformed brought a storm of protests from all parts of the world.

Ten years ago, when he had reached the age of 60, Dr. Osler found reason to modify his view regarding the wisdom of snuffing out men's lives at that age.

JENKINS TRIAL CAN BE HELD IN FEDERAL COURT

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 30.—The Mexican supreme court ruled today that the federal district court of Puebla has jurisdiction in the case of Wm. O. Jenkins, American consular agent, at liberty on bail pending trial for alleged collusion with his bandit abductors.

The ruling, however, was confined to the one point of jurisdiction and the supreme court did not direct that the case be tried in the federal court or that the state court of Puebla, which first directed Jenkins' imprisonment, was entirely without authority. In fact, the ruling was interpreted as meaning the state court is still competent to conduct the trial, though Jenkins may not enter a new petition for transfer of his case to the federal district court.

EXPLOSION OF BOMBS HALTS FIRE FIGHTING

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Dec. 30.—Explosion of 250 serial bombs rendered impossible fighting of the fire which destroyed a part of the military air station here late yesterday, it was learned today.

Military authorities are making their investigation of the fire today. The fire burned three hours and did $100,000 damage. The property destroyed included the portable machine shop valued at $30,000, a large quantity of oil, two tanks and the 250 aerial bombs which exploded. Flight A. 96th aero squadron, lost everything it had, excepting its planes.

Two men were slightly burned when the gasoline supply caught fire.

BOY'S HAND CUT IN ELECTRIC WASHER

ORANGE, Dec. 30.—Reinhart Picken, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Picken, living northwest of Orange, is nursing a badly cut and injured hand today, as a result of an encounter with the family electric washer yesterday. The boy was alone at the time, and is believed to have been "fooling" with the washer, when in some manner his hand became caught in the wringer, which is operated by electricity. The arm was drawn into the wringer as far as the elbow before the machine could be stopped. The lad then had presence of mind enough to reverse the wringer, and his arm was released. The back and palm of the hand and fingers were mashed and cut, and several stitches had to be taken to close the wounds.

CUBAN SUGAR MAY BE 20 CENTS PER POUND

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The public probably will have to pay twenty cents a pound for the advance crop of 9,000,000 pounds of Cuban sugar now being delivered and distributed here, according to a statement by Federal Food Administrator Williams. He said:

"This is due to the fact that dealers here are required to pay a higher price to the Cuban producers for the crop which is in advance of the regular outcome. We cannot control the price charged by Cubans."

GEN. M'INTYRE DECORATED

OFFICER SLAIN BY OWN MAN. IS JURY'S VERDICT

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—Ireland today generally was ready to accept the verdict of the coroner's jury that Lieutenant Boast, shot in a fight on the grounds of the vice regal lodge Sunday was killed by his own men.

The public also expressed indignation at the killing of Laurence Kennedy, agreeing with the verdict of the coroner's jury which said:

"We find Kennedy was killed while on his way home by a military patrol. We tender our deepest sympathy to his relatives."

Late testimony in the inquest indicated a possible attempted attack on the lodge of Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland, but testimony was so conflicting that many persons were inclined to doubt that any movement of importance against the lodge was under way.

The Boast verdict presumably was reached because no revolver was found near Kennedy's body to substantiate soldiers' statements that Kennedy fired on Boast before he was shot down by the guard.

Soldiers who accompanied the lieutenant clung to their story that they came upon a group of six men while patrolling the grounds. Corporal Rolleston said that while he did not actually see Kennedy fire at Boast he saw the civilian put his hand in his pocket and that a flash of fire followed.

Two other soldiers swore they saw Kennedy draw a revolver and fire at Boast. One soldier said Kennedy fired at him before he was killed.

Three civilians arrested on the grounds soon after the fight established their innocence and were released.

PLAN TO 'GET' DETZER RELATED AT HEARING

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The alleged plot to "get" Captain Karl W. Detzer on trial charged with cruelty to American soldiers at Lemnaus, was told to Sgt. Stephen Madden, former first sergeant in the D. C. L. company, he testified, through a hole dug under a two-foot wall separating his cell from that of Sgt. Frank Hoyt, his informant.

THINK MAN MACHINE IN MENTAL PROCESS

More Witnesses to Testify That Prisoner Does Not Think Clearly.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—For the first time since the Harry S. New murder trial opened, Mrs. Lily Burger, New's mother, was not in court for the morning session. She is at home suffering from illness to which the strain of her son's trial was a contributing factor.

Charles Dawson, a newspaper man who had talked with New was the first witness called today. He declared that on the morning of July 5, the day after Frieda Lesser was killed, he talked with New and believed that New did not realize what he had done when he admitted killing Miss Lesser.

Read Kendall, a newspaper man testified that when she asked New questions suggesting the answer "yes" New would answer "yes." If the suggested answer was "no" then New would answer "no."

William Mountain, another newspaper man followed Kendall to the stand and elaborated on previous testimony, by which the defense hopes to show that New is merely a machine as to his mental process. He said he believed New is far from normal mentally.

Mountain brought out that only on one occasion when he suggested an answer to a question to New, New failed to give that answer. On that occasion the question went unanswered.

When court adjourned at noon the defense was ready to call other witnesses in support of its automaton theory.

CAPITAL, LABOR LAWS NEEDED, SAYS GARY

Judge Gary, in his only direct reference to industrial commission suggestions for a tribunal to arbitrate disputes and twelve regional boards to investigate labor differences, said:

"I have little to say at present concerning the plan for settlement of labor disputes" reported by President Wilson's conference. I shall endeavor to take time to go over it carefully before reaching a final conclusion. It is to be hoped that whatever organization shall be agreed upon it will be made up of competent, disinterested and unprejudiced men, who will secure the confidence of the entire public and that serious industrial disputes may be avoided as the result."

DRY AMERICANS ARE FLOCKING TO LAREDO

By RALPH H. TURNER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LAREDO, Tex., Dec. 30.—The town, whose location on the Rio Grande long since gave it international importance in American relations with Mexico, today finds that its strategic position has afforded it new possibilities—wonderful possibilities. For this is one point where Dry America may make a head-on attack on the waiting arms of Wet Mexico.

"Stop! First Chance!" is the impelling command posted over the Lopez saloon to greet the eyes of the traveler after he has paid the toll charges on the Mexican side of the international bridge. But it is not the last chance, by any means. Nueva Laredo, the Mexican end of this Texas city, aims to provide full accommodation for parched throats from the north.

An unofficial census gives Nueva Laredo a population of 14,000. Another census, probably more accurate, credits it with thirty saloons.

The appeal to sentiment is made just as urgent on the return to the American side of the border. Letters, just as bold as those seen on the arrival platform that it is the "Last Chance," again requesting a cessation of motion. The Mexican eye also is seized. "La Ultima Oportunidad" is the warning which it receives.

Citizens Indifferent

The American citizen in Laredo so far as his own "personal liberty" is concerned, assumes an attitude of indifference toward the situation across the line. He wanders over now and then, he explains, but this nearly useless has become an old story to him and it doesn't excite him. Besides Texas has been dry for more than a year.

In the striking comparisons of Julian cars from the north—that is where the praises of Laredo, and its Mexican cousin across the river, are sung to the full. Traveling salesmen, old hands in the border territory, hold their less traveled clients enthralled with the unquenchable declaration that here is not even a drop of water, or you pass as center of the Laredo bridge—this is straight 5 per cent. And then they pass to the mysteries of tequila, the Mexican national drink. And on, and on. By the time the traveler has reached Laredo, his interest has been well developed.

Men in San Antonio, whose business it is to know, declare that no persons are in Southern Texas for the winter, from the east and north, than ever before.

Ready Across Border.

Laredo, as a result, foresees a hotel register black with names. Across the border, they're ready. Beside a drink, Nueva Laredo offers a pair of gamblers' houses and a bull fight—a genuine Spanish bull fight with all the trimmings—nearly every Sunday.

But of course the continent contains the inevitable fly. The business of crossing the border is easy; short-time passports are issued with little formality, but the bridge closes at 7 o'clock, the result of a quarrel. The order. The camp style of late parties, for traffic across the bridge after that hour is forbidden and Nueva Laredo is shy of hotel accommodation. Saloon proprietors say this is the only point on the border where such a ruling exists.

"Tisn't right," complained one, an American who left New Orleans for Mexico the morning of July first last. "But I'm doing my best. I'm fixin' up furnished rooms on the two floors over my place. Let 'em stay all night, I say."

BANK EXPANSION CAMPAIGN MOST SUCCESSFUL

Showing an increase of one hundred per cent in deposits within the last year, the California National bank is highly pleased with its expansion and promotion campaign, launched during the early winter of 1918.

August 31, 1918, the deposits of this bank were $604,133.39. One month later they had increased to $662,792.41; and two months later, on December 31, 1918, the total was $754,275.83. This year's increase in deposits, as shown by reports to the Comptroller of Currency, were as follows: March 4, $828,574.44; May 12, $876,550.24; June 30, $888,977.72; September 12, $976,270.01; November 17, $1,408,075.01.

This campaign has put the California National in a very favorable position and it will be continued, it being remembered that satisfactory service brings continuous growth. The bank officials and directors greatly appreciate the confidence of the public as evidenced by its remarkable growth in usefulness during the twelve months just gone, and will ever strive to increase that confidence by rendering the most satisfactory banking service to patrons of which it is capable.

Everett White to Quit.

Announcement of interest made today is that Everett A. White, who has been associated with the California National for more than a year past, will relinquish his connection there tomorrow, and will resume his full time work with the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company in Santa Ana and vicinity. White's duties were the soliciting of new business and he added a number of desirable new accounts, but his contract, which was only for a period of one year, has expired and on the first of the new year he resumes his position in the life insurance game.

THROGS DELIGHTED WITH TEMPLE PLAY

Hundreds of Santa Ana lovers of the legitimate today are boosting for the "Daughter of the Sun," put on last night at the Temple theatre. The playhouse was crowded and expressions of delight marked the face of all as they fled out following the play.

In the hands of clever artists and with the scenes laid in the atmosphere of Hawaii, the play proved one of the most entrancing that has been given in Santa Ana in many months.

Rich fun and rich music dominate the production and the audience was kept in an uproar most of the time, while at other times it marveled at the strength and beauty of the musical renditions.

Original wit marked the work of the comedians and musical numbers of the Native Hawaiians carried the audience into the land. Every feature of the big play is handled in a masterly manner, the whole combining in an evening of rare entertainment.

The play will be given again tonight, starting at 8:15, and ticket sales this afternoon indicated another packed house tonight.

FREE HOSPITAL TREATMENT OF EX-SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Any ex-service man who needs medical or surgical treatment because of illness or injury contracted in the Army or Navy, can hereafter enter an army hospital, public health service hospital, or local civilian institution or sanatorium, and have all his expenses paid by the government. Few soldiers or sailors seem to be aware of this privilege, which is theirs for the asking, and today the war department instructed the entire personnel of the office of the assistant to the secretary of war, in charge of soldier employment and welfare work, to bring this to the attention of all such men.

Lieut. Colonel Matthew C. Smith, of the general staff, and head of the bureau, has issued a bulletin for nationwide distribution, which says: "Any discharged service man who is in need of medical treatment and feels that his illness is due to wounds or other disabilities received or aggravated while in service, should at once see the nearest army hospital or local representative of the United States public health service for an examination. Addresses may be ascertained from the postmaster. The American Red Cross representative and state or municipal health officer also are able to advise service men about their cases and should be consulted."

Should Take Papers.

"If discharge or other papers showing that the disability was existing at the time of separation from service are available, they should be taken along, as they will be of help in making a decision the case. However, if these papers are not available the man should not hesitate to apply. Such an applicant will be immediately placed under treatment pending the receipt of the necessary papers."

"If there is no representative of the health service in the ex-soldier's home town and no army hospital at hand, and it is possible for him to travel, such traveling expenses, hospital expenses and wages lost while undergoing examination will be paid by the government, should it be decided that treatment is necessary."

"On the other hand, if the physical condition of the man makes it impossible for him to travel, he will be examined and treated at his home. In special cases where it is found that a change of climate will be beneficial patients will be sent to specially designated hospitals."

AMERICANS SAY DEMPSEY WILL BE WINNER

By CHARLES M. McCANN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Dec. 30.—American boxers now in London and their managers are practically unanimous in the belief that Georges Carpentier has little chance to wrest the world's heavyweight title from Jack Dempsey in their coming match. The opinion to this consensus is Ted Lewis, born in London, but a naturalized American, who formerly held the welterweight title. And he does not commit himself irrevocably in favor of the Frenchman.

Johnny Griffiths, Akron, Ohio, welterweight, who recently stopped Francis Charles, a Frenchman, in jig time here, has this to say: "Dempsey will beat Carpentier within six rounds. The Frenchman is good. There is none better in Europe. But he is not good enough for Dempsey. My money is on Jack."

Pal Moore, Memphis, a bantamweight, who made Eugene Criqui, another Frenchman, quit the same night as the Griffiths-Charles go, says: "Dempsey is not like Wells and Dackett, who were easy for Carpentier. Jack has both brains and brawn and is both a fighter and a boxer. Carpentier is the better boxer, but he hasn't Dempsey's wallop."

Lewis Favors Carpentier

Ted Lewis, who put away the ancient Matt Wells, former British lightweight champion just to make it an all-American night, says: "Carpentier has more speed and brains. He will be as unlike Willard as day and night. He has a kick like a mule and will be the hardest proposition Dempsey ever tackled."

Fred Harvey, an Englishman and Lewis' manager, says: "Dempsey is the better. I saw him fight Willard and I think he is too big, too strong and too fast for Carpentier. But he will have no walk-away."

"Cochran has sewed up Carpentier and will induce Dempsey to come over here and fight."

Nate Lewis, Moore's manager, says he will back Dempsey to the limit against Carpentier.

British boxing fans, of course, can see nothing but Carpentier in view of the way he has slaughtered the best they could produce. But the American colony is just as keen for Jack's chances as are the Yankee boxers here.

The American boys made a great hit with their work on Boxing Day.

PETITION FOR TAX DISTRICT IS FILED

Petitions praying for the organization of a cemetery district for raising funds for care of abandoned cemeteries today are before the Board of Supervisors, following presentation by J. E. Liebig, as chairman of the cemetery committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. There are 168 signatures more than necessary, unless some should be thrown out by reason of duplication or because of legal irregularities.

It was ascertained definitely late yesterday afternoon that 6900 names would be required to make the petitions effective, and petitions with 7978 signatures were filed. The clerk was directed to check the lists and report to the board as soon as the work can be done.

There is possibility of testing the law under which organization is proposed before final creation of the district. So far as is known to local people, no district has ever been organized in the state under provisions of the law, which was approved March 6, 1909.

Attorney Koepsel, representing the committee, and District Attorney L. A. West, discussed with the board the legal phases of the situation, and it is possible the matter will be taken into the courts under mandamus proceedings, this being deemed the better way of getting a quick and definite decision on the legal points.

In event this decision is arrived at, the board will refuse to grant the prayer of the petitioners and mandamus action will be brought to compel the body to grant the petition.

The law was passed for the purpose of making it possible for a district to be organized upon which a tax can be levied for the care of abandoned cemeteries. The condition of the Santa Ana cemetery and its practical abandonment brought about the effort to organize the district. The law provides for a tax up to 2 mills on the dollar of assessed valuation.

ANAHEIMERS TAKE GOOD GAME, 5 TO 3

ANAHEIM, Dec. 30.—The Anaheim baseball club won a close game from Dutch Rall's All-Stars of Los Angeles, Snuday afternoon, which was played before a large and enthusiastic crowd on the Anaheim high school grounds. The score was 3 to 3 up to the eighth inning, when the locals put two more runs across the plate through timely hitting and clever base running, and as the Ralls were unable to connect in their half of the ninth, the final score was in Anaheim's favor, 5 to 3.

The features of the game were the spectacular battery work of Beck Lan Franco, pitcher, and Bus Callan, catcher, for Anaheim, the latter also pounding out a nifty two bagger, also the hair-raising fielding of little Franklin, the Santa Ana streak of lightning who knocked down two sure hits by running over back of third, from short and spearing them with his bare hand, thereby saving several sure runs. Glen Callan and Salvesson of Fullerton and Nick La Port of the oil fields, also Ingraham of Anaheim were there with their heads up and played real ball.

The Rall's All-stars team should also be commended for their clean sportsmanship and ability as ball players. They have as fast a set of outfielders as has been seen in these parts in many a day. Time after time they spoiled perfectly good hits by running away out with their backs to the balls and just at the last moment spearing them. Their catcher was a clown and kept the bleachers in an uproar.

The same teams will play next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. on the Anaheim high school grounds, and as the Los Angeles bunch will be out to even up the series, some real baseball may be expected. Elmer Rizer, who pitches for Seattle in the Pacific Coast League during the regular season, will be on the mound for Rall's All-stars, and Wally Hood, who plays next season for the Brooklyn Nationals, will play in outfield for Anaheim.

LOSE TOOLS AS WELL NEAR FINISH

FULLERTON, Dec. 30.—With two strings of tools in one well and a bailer lost in another, the Brea Canyon Oil Company is entitled to some sympathy. At No. 31, just as the well was nearing the finishing stage, a couple of strings of tools were lost at 2700 feet. Some six hundred feet of oil sand had been pierced and the well was looking good. At No. 31, while bailing and cleaning out at 2700 feet, a bailer was lost. No. 32, a new well, will spud in and commence drilling before the end of the week.

Drilling with oil in the hole at No. 15, the Fullerton Oil Company is making some good time. With the cable tools close to 2400 feet the hole has been made in less than three months. The oil keeps the pipe from sticking and a string of casing can be carried to almost any desired depth.

The Gold Seal Petroleum Company's wildcat well in Little Brea Canyon is beginning to look considerably like an oil well. At 2800 feet this well is showing a good looking shale that is carrying lots of gas and frequent oil colors.

The Commonwealth Petroleum Company has made a location for well No. 34 at Olinda. Nos. 31 and 32 are drilling deeper in the hope of getting a better production and No. 33 is building rig.

The chances for the Olinda Land Company getting any oil in its wildcat well No. 21, are getting rather slim. The well is drilling at 4600 feet, and at this depth the formation is a very hard shell showing a few occasional traces of oil.

The West Coast Oil Company, drilling at Olinda has well No. 67 down 2500 feet and the well is ready in the oil sand. No. 72 is building rig. At No. 73 the ten-inch pipe has been set at 1785 feet and the well is standing cemented.

No. 61, brought in two months ago at 275 barrels, has dropped only 25 barrels. The Amalgamated Oil Company, with the abandoning of No. 1 on the Ibbison, now has but two wells drilling in the Richfield district. The Amalgamated's Potter No. 1 is drilling in brown shale and boulders at 1750. The digging has been hard, the progress has been a little slow during the past week.

The Clark Oil company's well No. 1 on Hugo Wetzel is down 3300 feet and is awaiting an O. K. on the water before resumption of drilling.

Travis Cemented Again
After making some study of the water situation in the Travis well, the Fullerton Oil Company has cemented again, making the third time the well has been cemented. The Fullerton Oil Company's Anaheim Union No. 1 is drilling in a hard sand at 2950 feet and as yet has not shown any signs of oil.

On property north of the Heffern well the Getty Oil Company started work building a rig for its first well in the new field. It is the intention of the Getty to get a rig up and preparations made for drilling to start just as soon as the Heffern well shows up satisfactorily.

The General Petroleum is putting in tubing in Thompson No. 1 with the intention of trying out a hydraulic process for the cleaning out of the sand. This well came in with all the marks of a gusher a few weeks ago, but the sand keeps coming into the well with so much volume that it has been impossible to make the well produce much oil. Ordinarily bailing and cleaning out does not make any headway where so much sand is present. By forcing water under pressure into the hole it is believed the sand can be removed so the well can produce. Thompson No. 2 is drilling in the conglomerate at 1778. Stern No. 1 is making hole in the shale at 1500 feet. The General Petroleum's Yorba 3-1 is drilling on iron at 2972, four feet of hole being made in a week's drilling.

Heffern Still Going Deeper
The Heffern's "sand wash" well is now drilling at close to 4200 feet. At this depth the formation is shale with an occasional showing of oil. Little hope is now held for a good deep well, however. Test will be made of the sand while the drilling is in progress. In the event that no deep oil sand is struck it is the plan now to come back up to 3300 feet and test out one of the well's best showings. Heffern No. 2 is grading for the rig and the material is on the ground for the derrick.

The deepest well now drilling at Richfield is the Petroleum Development Company's Bradford Community No. 1. This well is now down 3500 feet and is drilling in conglomerate. This is the deepest that conglomerate has been found in the field. Bradford Bros. No. 1 is drilling at 3434, and showing quite a good deal of oil and gas in the shale. Bradford No. 1 is drilling at 3550 feet in a hard sand. No. 3 is a location for a new well.

EXHAUSTION OF PUBLISHERS TO INCREASE RATES

Southern Cal. Dailies Forced to Raise Prices by Paper Famine, Higher Costs

Drastic economies in the use of print paper during the present critical shortage, and increased advertising and subscription rates made necessary by abnormal production costs, were agreed to by members of the Southern Pacific Associated Dailies, at a special meeting at the City Club, in Los Angeles, last night.

Crombie Allen of the Ontario Daily Report, president of the organization, called the publishers together to devise ways and means for meeting the situation created by the acute paper famine now prevalent throughout the United States and particularly crucial on the Pacific Coast.

A committee from the Los Angeles Publishers' Association waited on the out-of-town newspaper men during the afternoon and told what had been done and is to be done by the Los Angeles papers to weather the crisis.

The association pledged its cooperation in the conservation and self-preservation movement by the adoption of the following resolution:

War Board Rulings.
"Members of the Southern California Associated Dailies, representing the country daily newspapers of this district, in special session assembled, hereby renew our acceptance of the rulings of the War Industries Board with reference to conservation of print paper, and pledge the members of this association to adopt such economies in the use of paper as will reduce consumption to the utmost consistent with absolute business requirements during the year 1920 and until the present emergency is passed.

"These economies will include the elimination of all free publicity and the reduction of the volume of automobile and theater publicity; the reduction of the size of headlines and of body type where practicable, and of such other means of reducing the size of our papers as conditions may make possible.

"Also, in view of the admitted fact that publishers have had to meet great increases in the cost of materials and labor, especially in the cost of print paper, and are now facing further increases in the cost of print paper for the year 1920, which will be 50 per cent or more above costs during the year 1919, it is impossible wholly to provide for or absorb this added cost by means of economies.

Must Face Increases.
"The California Associated Dailies therefore face the necessity of announcing to their constituencies increases in both advertising and circulation rates, and effective the 1st of January, or as soon thereafter as reasonable notice can be given, such increases in advertising rates and in the price of papers to be announced.

With regard to the federal attitude toward private forestry, it is suggested that the government would work primarily through state agencies. To initiate the proposed policy, a federal law would be necessary authorizing the government to co-operate with the states in bringing about the protection and wise handling of forest lands within their borders and providing means for such co-operation.

San Diego Harbor Tract Purchased
SAN DIEGO, Dec. 30.—A tract of approximately 28,000 acres along the water front at San Diego, regarded as the key to the future agricultural, industrial and residential development of this city, yesterday passed into the ownership of a group of Los Angeles and eastern capitalists, including among others William W. Wrigley, Jr., owner of Catalina Island; Lee A. Phillips, vice president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company; John D. Spreckels of San Diego and the Blankenhorn-Hunter Company, according to the announcement of David Blankenhorn, president of the latter company. The properties taken over include the holdings of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York bankers, and comprise the Sweetwater Company's irrigating system, large lemon groves, farming lands, city lots and the industrial properties of the San Diego Land Corporation. The land fronts three miles on San Diego bay.

While the cash consideration is withheld, it is understood to approximate $4,000,000. The new owners, it is said, plan improvements on a great scale as soon as the details of organization are completed. J. P. Morgan & Co., who were represented in the transaction by Frederick W. Stevens, one of the partners, said yesterday that, because of the peculiar location of the properties, it was felt by the syndicate members that they would play an important part in the development of San Diego.

Bank clearings in 24 principal cities of the twelfth federal reserve district increased from $1,191,956,000 in November, 1918, to $1,626,120,000 in November, 1919.

MEXICANS WISH KNEE PANTS FOR MEN, COMING PERHAPS

By RALPH H. TURNER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mex., Dec. 30.—The Mexican of this section wants to go to work.

A disposition to resume normal agricultural activity is becoming increasingly evident, according to both Americans and Mexicans of San Luis Potosi. Different forms of evidence are offered to substantiate the belief that the farmer is gaining a renewed sense of industry—and different reasons are advanced to explain the steady influence which is said to be laying its hand on this district.

In some quarters you will hear that the Carranza government is meeting increased success in its efforts to restore order; in other circles you are told that bandits are still active, but have established a "liaison" with the people; and still others questioning meets the simple explanation that the Mexican is growing tired of fighting and is ready for work.

Work is already well under way in the districts not infested by trouble-makers. The corn crop this year is more favorable than last and in regions which are still unsettled this fact has promoted the desire to resume producing.

One barometer of conditions is the number of inquiries received here for agricultural implements. Farm machinery, hardware and tools are among the chief imports received in San Luis Potosi from the United States, not so much for sale in this center as for distribution throughout Central Mexico. Ten of the twenty-seven states of Mexico are contiguous to San Luis Potosi. Dealers in agricultural implements report that while their sales are not up to normal, they have exceeded the demand for the past two or three years. By "normal" they mean the pre-revolutionary period.

The sale of farm machinery does not imply, altogether, that the Mexican farmer has awakened to the advantage to be gained from modern agricultural methods. While this tendency is noticeable in some places, other factors are more pronounced. Supplies, depleted by Mexico's internal warfare, need replenishing. Labor is scarce. Many of the peons have left the farms, either for the safer environment of the cities or for the more remunerative and more stable life of the United States. There is a shortage, too, in work animals, hundreds of oxen having been seized by itinerant marauders.

Now that there is an inclination to resume work, the modern products of American factories are called upon to fill the gap created by revolution. If the inclination becomes a permanent state of mind—and is given a chance to develop—it will mean much in the stabilizing of Mexico.

LOSING ONE'S PLACE

A magazine tells of a little girl who "sat in her high chair at the dinner-table, turning about in her fingers a small ear of corn from which she had been nibbling a row at a time. Suddenly she burst into tears. 'I've lost my place,' she sobbed.

There is probably no American who will not be moved to chuckle over the child's predicament. It seems to hold, too, behind the laugh, a deeper symbolism.

There is no fear in the world quite so harrowing as that of losing one's job. The deadly sense of failure to make good is worse than the loss of salary, no matter how important that may be. There is a horrible feeling that if one job is lost, others following may be lost—visions of down-and-outness are bound to ensue.

It is this fear, however, which keeps most of the work of the world mediocre. It is this fear which keeps people at low levels of success who should rise to high ones.

A woman who had recently been taken into a new firm as department head had an incompetent assistant whose discharge she was postponing partly because she did not wish to seem hasty about changes, partly because the girl was so extremely inefficient she was disturbed about her future.

An executive of longer standing told her she was making a grave mistake to hesitate a moment. The girl was incompetent either because she was in the wrong type of job, and success awaited her in a different one, or because she had not learned that work is work. In the latter case, the discharge might be the poignant lesson she needed.

What is a job, anyhow? Simply an opportunity for serving one's fellows. Viewed in this light, is losing one such opportunity any more serious than the child's lost place in the ear of corn?

The lost place is the one where one's work is no longer needed. But around the corner the true work waits in another row.

A JUVENILE LITERARY

A "Junior Corner" in the home library is described in Good Housekeeping by a mother who has arranged one for her children. It is furnished with a table and a tier of sectional bookcases. The children's books and magazines are there kept together. Each day as the parents read the paper they make clippings of articles which they think will appeal to the children and place them in a wire basket on the table. At the end of a month the children clear out the basket, throw away what they no longer want and file away in envelopes in the table drawer those they wish to keep. Current events are discussed by parents and children together.

This is undoubtedly a better way to provide news and literature for the children than to allow them to maul indiscriminately over the newspapers or the library shelves. This woman was led into starting her children's library by finding that they "were doing a great deal of promiscuous and haphazard reading that did not fit into any of the pigeonholes of their minds, because as yet they did not have discrimination enough to classify their information."

But besides being an admirable way to handle the collection of children's books and magazines, and stimulate the interest in current history, this method has the added advantage of giving the children training in the orderly handling of things.

There are occasional people who are big enough to rise above disorder in their surroundings or their habits. But they are few. As a rule the successful person in any line learns at some stage of the upward path that order is a necessity of his life. A wholly orderly child would be a horrible little prig, of course. But the power to see the desirability of order and system is not incompatible with happy-go-lucky childhood. It plants one of those seeds which seem to distracted parents to have fallen on stony ground, but which so often sprout in later life into standards and ideals.

BUSINESS DEMOCRACY

The dissolution of the complex aggregation of businesses called the "Meat Trust" is another step in the working out of democracy. It is the application of democracy to big business, in the field where autocracy remained most strongly entrenched and most threatening.

The packers agree to sell their holdings in more than 750 concerns which they have owned in whole or in part. That gives some idea of the ramifications of the vast system they have built up. Their system has included, in recent years, not only all sorts of meat products but nearly all the common substitutes for those products, and nearly everything likely to find its way to the table. Such a monopoly is intolerable. If not abused at any particular time, it is always liable to abuse. The obvious thing was to break up the monopolistic system, and accordingly it is broken up, at least in form.

This is in line with the trend of the times. Democracy is demanded in business as in government. Freedom is wanted for the individual business man or firm as it is for the individual as a person and a voter. Many great business organizations have already been demolished for this purpose, and many more are likely to be. The Steel Trust persists, despite its size and its practical domination of the steel business, but one of these times it may go the way of the Oil Trust and the railroad combinations.

Perhaps such action is not final. Perhaps it is only an intermediate step in business evolution. The plainest tendency of the time is toward wider and larger organization in all kinds of business. It is a movement toward co-operation on an ever-increasing scale. Yet here we are, fighting that tendency and trying to restore old-time competition.

Many have held that trusts were formed in obedience to a natural economic law. They have been broken up because of an actual menace they held. The parts, however, keep regrouping themselves, somehow or other. In time of emergency the government itself takes hold and combines the railroads, the coal mines, the shipyards, etc., in a way it forbids private owners to do.

Now, with the war over, there is an effort to restore competition everywhere, by force if necessary. And it is proving to be a mighty difficult task in some fields. It is what the government has to do, however, unless it wants to tackle the democracy game from another angle, and set up some sort of state socialism, with all the business men in every industry free to compete on equal terms within strict limits, and all subject to government control outside of those limits.

A New Year's resolution for all the people! To let congress feel so strong a pressure of their will toward right and justice and an honorable adjustment of the affairs of this country as shall force it into action to bring speedy relief from the troubles with which the nation is beset.

Railroad Paradox

Fresno Republican

For once, President Wilson has yielded to congress to the extent of postponing the return of the railroads to their owners for two months, in order to give congress time to act. Simply to dump them back, as was threatened, would have bankrupted many of them immediately and most of them within a month. Also, it might have precipitated a nationwide railroad strike this week. This thing of making railroads "private" is not so simple as it looks. They are not private and cannot be made so.

Therefore, congress is given two months to find some way to make them profitably private while still keeping them safely public. Several problems congress has to muddle over. One is to find some way to prevent strikes without prohibiting them. Another is to find some way of raising wages without increasing rates or decreasing profits or service. Another is to find some way of guaranteeing profits without cost to the government, and of limiting profits without hampering the railroads in borrowing money. It is necessary that the railroads secure huge sums of additional capital for betterments and extensions, if the increasing traffic is to move. The government does not want to furnish this capital, nor to permit the railroads to offer inducements which would enable them to get it themselves. A lot of small railroads are not profitable, but it is a public necessity that they be run. Somebody must pay their losses. The government does not want to do it, nor to provide any fair way for the big railroads to do it. The thing to be gained by turning the railroads back is "competition." But just now enormous economies and efficiencies in service are being accomplished by consolidations. In California, for instance, the Santa Fe uses the Southern Pacific terminals, to the great advantage of everybody except the Southern Pacific, and the Western Pacific is run as a feeder to the Southern Pacific system, to the great advantage of everybody except the Western Pacific stockholders and the prospects of completing their road. All the combinations and consolidations are against the law. It is desired to continue them, without repealing the law which prohibits them, and to preserve the advantages of combination without losing the advantages of competition. Finally, it is desired to give the employees and the public that degree of control which they should have in railroads as a public institution, while preserving to those of their employees who function as if they were owners that degree of control which ought to belong to the owners of private institutions.

Naturally, the only way out of the whole paradox is government ownership. But since everybody is agreed not to try that, it is obviously desirable to give congress time to choose among the impossible alternatives. It will be muddled, whatever is done or not done.

It is said that the Apaches had five words for murder, not one for love.

A recent analysis of soviet literature is said to show ten words for destruction, only one for construction; six words for communism, only one for patriotism.

Bolshevism, according to linguistic analysis, yields many words meaning pain, agony, torment, fear, awe, sadness, hunger, tears, distress, misery, imprisonment, adversity, calamity, disaster, and confiscation.

Bolshevistic writings also yield many words meaning bereavement, widow, orphan, doom, death, grave, and punishment.

We also find the following words abounding in soviet literature: revolt, masses, classes, seize, destroy, burn, demolish, blow up, and finally: "In the work of destruction we must be merciless."

Americanism abounds in such words as love, brotherhood, home, country, protection, sympathy, pity, fellow-feeling, compassion, charity, friend, country, God, progress, assistance, hope.

The conditions portrayed by words are as true to life as the negative is to that upon which the camera was focused. Take your choice.

SOME DAY.

Some day—and soon—I'll break these prison bars.
And solve the mysteries of those distant stars
That pierce the liquid blackness of the night
With luring, haunting messages of light.

Some day the veil will lift and I will see
With vision clear. There'll dawn to me
That peopled world we ignorantly call space.
The loved and lost—I'll meet them face to face.

The Conservancy Act

By Samuel Armor of Orange

Following are the closing paragraphs of a chapter on Soil, Climate and Water in the History of Orange County:

A number of citizens of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties, realizing that more can be done towards conserving the winter flood waters of the Santa Ana river and preventing damage therefrom to riparian lands near the coast, undertook to form a conservancy district of the entire basin of the stream; but the "conservancy act of California" was found to be so defective that it is doubtful if anything can be done along that line without further legislation.

Following are some of the criticisms of the act: It is alleged that county money cannot be spent outside the county; but that allegation is not sustained by the analogy of municipalities. Cities spend their money outside their territory for water supply, protection against floods, sewers, parks and other things; witness how they are bled white by the "Savage Act" to build good roads in the rural districts.

However, there are more serious objections to the act than that allegation. The act seems to be a jumble of public and private corporation law. It provides for voting in person or by proxy, each voter to have as many votes as he has acres of land, like shares of stock in a private corporation; but it fixes the term of the directors at four years, like the term in public corporations, instead of at one year, like the term in private corporations. From this jumble one might be in doubt whether the district would be a public or a private corporation, when formed; but the act provides that, when established and named, "thereupon the district shall be a political subdivision of the state of California." As a public corporation the district must conform to Section 24 of Article I of the constitution of California, which reads: "No property qualification shall ever be required for any person to vote or hold office."

The provisions in the act for fixing the boundaries of the district are as follows: The plan in the original petition to the board of supervisors, the hearing of the petition before said board, its approval of such pe-

tion and the adoption of the plan by the owners of the acreage included in the district. If the district is planned to include the entire basin of the Santa Ana river, or a considerable portion thereof, as it should do, it will cover millions of dollars' worth of taxable property in the cities, whose owners will have no voice in the formation of the district, or in any of its affairs thereafter. To tax that property for the support of the district would violate the principle of "no taxation without representation" for which our forefathers rebelled against England.

Among the objects and purposes for which conservancy districts may be formed, the act includes: "To conserve flood waters and to dispose of waters which have been conserved, for purposes of irrigation." The question is raised, "How far will the conservancy district be permitted to interfere with vested rights?" To grant the power to dispose of conserved (developed) water from a stream whose supply has been pre-empted, both the developed and the undeveloped, is sure to produce litigation.

A careful study of the conservancy act might disclose other objections; but enough have been raised to make the organization of a conservancy district under it highly improbable. However, this is not the end. The failure of the law will only delay the district a couple of years. Meanwhile the good work of the Tri-County Reclamation Committee, with federal and state aid, will continue to protect the watershed of the stream from destructive fires and to store its flood waters in the debris cones and gravel beds for summer irrigation. And the wells and pump plants, which were more than doubled in the last decade, will continue to increase in number and usefulness.

Thus with the three great requisites for success in agriculture and horticulture, viz., fertile soil, equable climate, abundant water, Orange county is forging ahead with giant strides, as note the increase in annual productions from $12,294,694, reported by the county statistician in 1910 to $63,416,500, reported by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce in 1918.

Caught On First Bounce

By S. E. Greene

The inconvenience of the print paper famine has its compensations. It is so serious in Los Angeles that the big dailies have had to cut the size of their papers, had to print important world news in two inch paragraphs, and even had to abbreviate the roien reports of the Harry New murder trial to only six or seven columns daily.

Barkow and Brookins is the name of the new firm that has started the Colton Chronicle. Two B's ought to keep things buzzing there all right, especially as one of them is Carl Barkow, the hustling editor of the Highland Messenger. Would-be competitors who don't want to get stung should take notice.

Hermosa Beach threatens to build a large amusement auditorium at the entrance to her pleasure pier if visitors don't quit flocking down there in such numbers.

The Glendals News tells of a class of Sunday school boys who have selected "The Axe" as their class name. This is the first instance we have ever known where that word was popular with boys.

Redondo Beach has found that while she was voting bonds and drawing plans for the repair of her levee home trade at home, however, especially when the home business men can handle it, and he wrote the school board that he would not bid on the work as they had a first class printing office that was not only loyal to the town, but made reasonable charges for printing, and he advised them to give the home office the printing without quibbling over the technical bids that the law calls for.

The Santa Paula Chronicle handed the school board of Fillmore a jolt the other day. The Fillmore board wrote to the Chronicle and other nearby papers, asking them to bid on the printing of the school manual there. Editor McPhee believes in keeping home trade at home, however, especially when the home business men can handle it, and he wrote the school board that he would not bid on the work as they had a first class printing office that was not only loyal to the town, but made reasonable charges for printing, and he advised them to give the home office the printing without quibbling over the technical bids that the law calls for.

A guinea pig that had its nest undisturbed a pair of scales at Redwood City made the scales weigh strong and the owner was arrested and fined for false weighing. We have heard of two-legged hogs that caused scales to weigh under weight but never before heard of a guinea pig doing it.

At the risk of causing a big drop in the price of eggs and poultry, we will mention that the largest electric hatchery in the world is now in operation at Norwalk.

Long Beach has voted out boxing exhibitions, and the few dozen pugs down there think the other 50,000 of 60,000 people of the town are all crazy.

Santa Barbara county has nearly $200,000 in her treasury, says the Morning Press. If she doesn't want to buy more than $300,000 or $400,000 worth of stuff with it, that ought to do her very nicely.

Occidental College has a freak student who is smarter at thirteen years of age than most people are at thirty. He laps up learning just like a pup does milk. His folks had to hold him back to keep him from entering college at eleven years of age instead of thirteen. In a way it is interesting to read about such marvels, but we've always felt just a little more comfortable without one in the family. We'd rather have just old fashioned kids, that study if they have to and get out of it if they can. They may start slower, but we believe they'll get farther.

San Bernardino county will vote next May on the issuance of a quarter of a million dollars in bonds to build half a court house. The other half has been built for years.

The club women of Monrovia worked at scrubbing, washing, selling junk and other kinds of mental labor to earn money to pay the debt on their club house. Some men might hoot at them for it and say the women wouldn't do that kind of work, except for some ethereal motive like a new club house. But bless your heart, old man, your own wife works just like that every day and harder, for you, for only her keep. As she could earn more than that at most anything else, what do you call that but an ethereal motive? Didn't know before that you were an ethereal motive, did you? Most men don't look like one, sure.

Society

Clubs—Lodges—Churches

Jolly Day for Children
Miss Lillian Dowell, of 319 East Pine street, entertained her former Sunday school class of the Tustin Presbyterian church on Monday afternoon, with music and games.

They were taken to the West End theatre to see Norma Talmadge. On returning home, a school lunch was served on the lawn, after which they returned home happier for their association together.

Those attending were: Lovene Sauer, Nellie Ware, Elizabeth McDougal, Eileen Young and their class teacher, Miss Lillian Martin.

Centenary Meeting Last Night
A highly successful group meeting of Orange County Methodists in the Centenary campaign was held at the First Methodist church here last evening, opening with a dinner, and with an attendance of one hundred forty people from all communities of the county.

After the meal the gathering was addressed by Rev. Lincoln A. Ferris of San Diego who spoke on the vision and possibilities of the task, which is to win a million souls to the church during 1920. Rev. Ferris pointed out that there are 1,800,000 people over 9 years of age in the Sunday schools who are not church members and more than a million non-church members identified with the Epworth League.

After this gathering, Rev. Ferris addressed a larger public meeting in the auditorium of the church on various features of the Centenary campaign and the consecration necessary for those who will be engaged in carrying it through.

Pleasant Dinner Party.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wieseman, 2020 North Main street, was the scene last evening of a gay dinner party given in honor of the A. N. Cox family and Percy Richards, the latter having recently returned from four years' service in the English army. Mr. Richards brought his mother from England when he returned to America and she, also, was an honor guest last evening of the Wieseman family.

Music and social conversation served to make the evening one of supreme enjoyment for the following: Mrs. Richards, Percy Richards, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Cox and children, Vivian, Minor, Edwin and Anita, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Wieseman, and their family.

Ebels Music Section Entertains.
About thirty inmates of the county hospital were made happy yesterday afternoon when eighteen members of the music section of the Ebels Society gave their annual entertainment in the auditorium of the hospital.

Little Evelyn Sherrill gave some very pretty dances, while Jack Langley played on the violin, this being one of the most enjoyed features of the program.

Community singing, led by Mrs. H. M. Sammis, opening the following program:
Violin Solo.....Jack Langley
Vocal Solo.....Mrs. Mit Phillips
Reading.....Mrs. John Clarkson
Vocal Solo.....Mrs. H. M. Sammis
Indian Dance.....Evelyn Sherrill
(Accompanied by Miss Lenora Thompson on the piano.)

Readers, Mrs. E. Clarkson
Piano Solo.....Miss Lenora Thompson
Vocal Duet—"Johnnie Smoker"
.....Mr. and Mrs. Mit Phillips
After the above program, together with the many encores called for, had been given, community singing closed what was one of the best entertainments ever given for the enjoyment of the patients of the hospital.

Those who were unable to leave their rooms to go to the auditorium, were delightfully entertained with dances by little Evelyn Sherrill and violin music by Jack Langley.

Dainty After-Theater Supper.
A dainty after-theater supper was given in the Grey Room at James' recently, at which table appointments were carried out in Christmas colors by the use of holly. A miniature Christmas tree occupied the center of the table, giving a very pretty effect.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Chas. Schultz and Misses Eunice Jones, Holly Dale, Eleanor Sturgeon, Rena Cranston, Stella Anderson, Helen Phillips, Helen Von Allmen and Nellie Irvine.

Campfire Girls Meet.
The Wemicamp Campfire Girls of the Congregational church met at the home of Miss Grace McKinney yesterday evening.

After the business meeting the following program was given:
"Dance of the Bluebirds," by Misses Edith McKinney and Helen Beatty.
Vocal duet—Mabel Harvey and Zora Hagaman.
A playlet, "When Love Is Young," was enacted by Misses Elva Chapman, Grace McKinney, Zora Hagaman and Mildred Paul.

The evening was very much enjoyed by Misses Marjorie Smith, Evelyn Hoffman, Lois Sweet, Ruth Langley, Pauline Carnahan, Gladys Swarthout, Julia Bruner and Helen Bows, besides the hostess and those already mentioned.

Entertain for Bride.
Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Skiles entertained at their home on Christmas day with a turkey dinner in honor of the marriage of their daughter Maude to James E. Prentiss who has just received his discharge from the service.

The decorations were carried out in the usual Christmas colors, ferns and holly being used.

The wedding took place in San Diego on December 23, at the home of U. S. Navy Chaplain Spotts, who performed the ceremony.

Those present, besides members of the family were Will Skiles, of Loveland, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Bullock and Mrs. Andrews of Los Beach, Miss Lennie Eyles of Los Angeles and Mr. Payton.

Enjoy Christmas Celebration.
The hosts of friends of Miss Lottie Palmer will be pleased to know that she was able to enjoy Christmas with relatives, whom she entertained during the day.

Miss Palmer enjoyed an eight o'clock Christmas breakfast with covers laid for ten, being the first time she had been out of bed for the morning meal since last June, when she underwent a serious operation.

The table was centered with a miniature Christmas tree, trimmed and lighted, and gifts were piled at each cover and about the chairs.

Another group of twelve relatives enjoyed a delightful Christmas dinner with Miss Palmer and Mrs. Lena Hewitt.

Dinner for Masonic Officers.
Officers of the Santa Ana Council, No. 14 of the Masonic Lodge were most enjoyably entertained by H. C. Kellogg at his home, 122 Orange avenue, last evening with a delicious turkey dinner.

It being such a short time after Christmas, the choice of the cheerful colors, red and green, was made and effectively carried out by the use of red bells, poinsettias and flaming red roses for the table. Nut bowls were also in red, and the refreshments also featured the Yuletide colors. The only hint of the approach of New Year, in any of the table appointments, was the place cards which were babies painted in the act of writing resolutions to correspond with the characters of each of the guests at the dinner. These caused much merriment.

Whist was the diversion of the evening, four tables being utilized, to seat the following: W. D. Duggan, W. W. Clevering, Capt. J. H. Hall, E. B. Smith, W. V. Whitson, L. M. Halladay, E. Bowers, A. H. Pease, Max Reinhaus, Julius Reinhaus, Geo. Robinson, F. C. Rowland and the host, H. C. Kellogg.

Mr. Kellogg's two daughters, Misses Helen and Rose, assisted by his two sons, Harold and Francis, helped with the serving and to make the evening very pleasant for the guests.

City and County Briefs

A good baseball team is a good advertising medium for the city it represents. This was proven during an over-night visit of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson of Santa Barbara with local friends. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson remember the visit of a Santa Ana ball team to Santa Barbara some ten or twelve years ago, and mentioned this as being one of the things which induced them to plan their vacation trip through Santa Ana. Today the Johnsons went to Long Beach and Los Angeles and expect to return home tomorrow or Thursday.

Masses at St. Joseph's Catholic church New Year's day. The Feast of the Circumcision will be at 7 and 9 o'clock in the morning.

The Logan street and Santa Fe street Mexican schools reopened on Monday, after the Christmas vacation. These schools opened before the other city schools for the purpose of making up time lost in the opening of the fall term. Attendance at both schools is good.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many loving friends for their kind words and deeds in our bereavement of the loss of our dear husband and father.

BEN TURPIN AT YOST PLAYHOUSE TONIGHT
Ben Turpin, famous screen comedian, will be at the Yost theater tonight and will give a photograph of himself to the first hundred ladies arriving at the play house to witness the third production of Mack Sennett's big piece, "Down on the Farm." The program starts tonight at 8:30 with the second show commencing at 8:30. Turpin will do some "funny capers" on the stage tonight. Tonight is the last showing of the Sennett super-production. Last night Miss Louise Fazenda, Baby John Henry, Billy Armstrong and Teddy, the Mack Sennett dog comedian, were presented on the stage by Manager Yost.

As influenza
is an exaggerated form of Grip, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets should be taken in larger doses than is prescribed for ordinary Grip. A good plan is not to wait until you are sick, but PREVENT IT by taking FIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets in time.

New Ruling Given For Forwarding Certain Mail Matter

Postmaster Overshiner says that the postoffice department has made a new ruling in regard to second, third and fourth class matter that cannot be delivered as originally addressed. Under this new ruling the mail can be forwarded to the addressee or to some other designated person at another postoffice, or it can be returned to the sender and the forwarding or return postage, or both, collected on delivery. The sender thereof must place on the matter an appropriate pledge that such postage will be paid. This pledge must be placed immediately under the sender's return card, which the matter must bear in every case, in the upper left corner of the addressee side. When the sender refuses to pay for the forwarding or return postage in accordance with his pledge, further matter bearing such pledge shall be refused. The following is suggested as suitable forms of pledge:

"Postmaster: If undeliverable at your office and addressee's new address is known, please forward, rated with postage due to cover forwarding charge. If undelivered to addressee, return to sender. Payment of forwarding and return postage guaranteed by sender."

TWO MEMBERS S. A. V. I. BOARD RESIGN

Resignations of Geo. Dierker and A. G. Finley as directors of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company today are before the board. Dierker has served for fifteen years and Finley eleven, and they feel that they have done their full duty in service to the company, and this consideration together with the fact that private interests are pressing, have been the interests controlling them in their determination to quit the board.

Consideration of the resignations probably will come before the board at its regular meeting on the 31st of January. In view of the fact that the annual meeting is to be held the second Tuesday in February, it is possible that action by the board will be deferred until after the stockholders' meeting. Dierker went on the board in Oct., 1904, and served as president for a number of years, resigning the place three years ago. Finley became a member in February, 1908. He is vice president of the California National bank, which position requires a great deal of his time. He also has large farming interests.

Following are the minutes of the board meeting on December 27:
The meeting was called to order at 10 a. m., with all members present. Minutes of the regular meeting of November 29 were read and approved. The secretary's report was read and ordered filed. Treasurer's report was received and ordered filed.

PLATINUM RING TO BE GIVEN TUSTIN SCHOOL T. R. PICTURE

The heading of an article appearing in the New York Sun. The article was written by Miss Hester Robinson, formerly a newspaper reporter in Santa Ana, now a reporter for the New York Sun. The article says:

The sweetheart of the unskilled laborer no longer is satisfied with an imitation diamond set in a wash-easy gold ring, but must have a sure enough sparkler set in a platinum band, while the general tendency for all kinds and classes of people to purchase jewelry and silverware is unprecedented, according to New York dealers.

And the increase in business comes largely from men and women who never were able to indulge before, but who seem to have developed a craving for this sort of luxury since their payrolls have been increased by the turn of events in the laboring world.

Platinum has never been so much in demand as now, it is said, and although trade in this kind of metal decreased during the war when it was needed in the making of certain kinds of destructive materials, sales have almost doubled their former records within the last few months.

Men no longer are satisfied with the cheap silver or nickel watch, but seek out the slim, gold cased, expensive timepiece with accessories to match. And women do not ask for imitation pearls, but insist that their necks must be encircled with real gems which are guaranteed to have been taken from the oyster.

The cost of living continues to ascend with the increased cost of production which results in part from the demands of higher wages and shorter hours everywhere, it is true, but the workman who finds his pocket more full of money than ever before seems prone to indulge in hitherto denied luxuries at the sacrifice of necessities, dealers say. Or perhaps he has grown so accustomed to high prices everywhere that the cost of jewelry no longer seems appalling.

And the growing popularity for silver tableware other than knives, forks and spoons, together with the general extravagance of the former humble workman, has resulted in an unusual increase in the sale of this kind of goods.

There was a discussion of methods of raising the money for building the new school rooms, whether by bonds or direct taxation. The matter was referred to a committee.

Members of the Tustin Advent Christian church and friends of Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Ladiue gave them a genuine surprise Tuesday night. They arrived in a party at the parsonage, bringing with them a good many substantial gifts and various kinds of good cheer. The evening was much enjoyed in a social way.

The members of the Advent Christian church will be interested to know that the mid-winter convention of that denomination will be held in Los Angeles, January 9 to 11.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Beard and Miss Bessie Turner of Godfrey, Ill., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Turner.

3000 GALLONS WINE DISAPPEAR FROM CAR
CROCKETT, Cal., Dec. 30.—Some kind and thoughtful switchman parked a freight car of wine in this city and officials are still searching for those who made away with some 3,000 gallons. Crockett is in a restricted zone and was "dry" long before July 1. When the car was discovered on a recent Sunday many of the populace dashed madly to the railroad yards equipped with spigots, garden hose and hand axes. The car was entered and some 3,000 gallons siphoned into buckets, bottles, kegs, demijohns and all manner of containers.

DISMISSAL ENTERED IN SUIT OVER $5000

Indicating a settlement out of court of what was apparently a singular court action, in that it involved the fact that no security had been given for a $5000 loan, dismissal was on file in superior court today of a suit instituted by Mrs. Aline Hinz, of 701 South Ross street, against G. H. Bunting, Santa Ana contractor and his wife Lizzie Bunting. It being an attachment case, the pleadings were kept secret until the filing of the dismissal. It was set forth in the complaint that on April 15, last, Mr. and Mrs. Bunting borrowed $5000 from the plaintiff. It was alleged that no part of the interest or principal of this sum had been paid up to the time of the filing of the action, on August 8. Head and Rutan were attorneys for Mrs. Hinz, while Bishop and Wellington represented the defendants.

FULLERTON SEWER PETITION BLOCKED

Representing more than 25 taxpayers of Buena Park, Attorney H. C. Head of the firm of Head and Rutan of Santa Ana, today presented to the board of supervisors a protest against the plan of the city of Fullerton to run a sewer pipeline from the city's present sewer farm, located about a mile northeast of Buena Park, to a point west and north of Buena Park. Attorney Head told the board that the protest was based on the ground that while the present sewer farm is a nuisance, in view of the odor disseminated from it, to permit a change in the location of the farm would increase the nuisance. The petition presented protests, particularly the granting of a permit to the city of Fullerton to cross Grand avenue, which is the main street running north and south at Buena Park. The supervisors postponed the hearing on the petition of the city of Fullerton until January 13, with the idea that some solution of the matter may be reached.

CHARGE JEWELER SOLD WHISKEY IN FULLERTON

H. J. Liebe, a jeweler, doing business at Seventh and Central avenue, Los Angeles, was held in $1000 bond yesterday by U. S. Commissioner Long, charged with violating the war-time prohibition law. There are two charges against Liebe, one of selling two pints of liquor at Fullerton, and the other of selling a half-pint of whiskey to Mrs. Grace McCullom, wife of R. P. McCullom, of Los Angeles, a former bartender, who was jointly charged with Liebe in the Fullerton affair. McCullom went on the stand and confessed his part in the transaction, implicating Liebe. It was after the Fullerton episode, when Mrs. McCullom's husband was in the county jail, that the irate wife concluded to get his "wicked" partner it seems. So she induced Liebe to sell her a half pint of whiskey, for which she paid him $2, according to the records in the case. Liebe put all of the blame on McCullom for the Fullerton trip, saying that he simply went down there because McCullom asked him to, and did not know what they were going down there for.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. OWEN HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Melissa Owen were held yesterday afternoon at the Mills and Winbiger chapel, with interment in Fairhaven cemetery. Mrs. T. A. Winbiger sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and "Abide With Me." Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, of which Mrs. Owen was a devoted member, conducted the services, beginning with the reading of a copy of Mrs. Owen's best-loved scriptures, passages from the opening verses of the 14th chapter of St. John. "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God." Fragrant and beautiful flowers surrounded the casket, silent messages of love from those who have known and esteemed Mrs. Owen during her brief residence here. Emma Melissa Southern was born in Kingston, Wisconsin, in 1851, and on January 1, 1873, was married at Wilton, Wisconsin, to Morris Owen. Her husband died in South Dakota a number of years ago. Three daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Owen, all of whom survive them. Mrs. Owen had since her early womanhood been a helpful and earnest member of the Methodist church. A woman of keen intellect and of forceful character, she possessed a quick and sparkling wit, and a lively sense of humor that made her friendship a thing to be sought for and treasured. Mrs. Owen's three daughters are Mrs. G. E. Snyder of this city, at whose home she died on December 26, Mrs. Henry Stony of Alberta, Canada, who had arrived with her family to spend the winter in Santa Ana a few weeks prior to her mother's death, and Mrs. Walter W. Austin, of San Diego. A brother, W. J. Southern, of Murietta, a sister, Mrs. George W. Hayward of Rialto, and twelve grandchildren also survive her.

Boy Fifteen Years Old Kills Three Bears In Woods of Oregon

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 30.—Blenn A. Brooks, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brooks, of Swiss Home, in the Siuslaw country, claims to be champion bear hunter for his age in that part of the country. His record so far has, perhaps, not been equalled in any part of the State by any lad as young as he. On Aug. 12 of this year Blenn killed a big bear with one shot, bringing it out of a tree where it was feeding on berries, and on Sept. 12 he killed another in a neighbor's orchard, bringing it down out of a fruit tree with two shots. But the most exciting encounter he has yet had was on Dec. 26, when he and his two older brothers were out hunting in the mountains not far from home. While going through a big patch of fern the boy saw tracks of a bear leading to a hollow tree. When he and his dog neared the tree Bruin came out and with one slap of its paw sent the dog whirling into the air and then climbed a tree. The boy hunter knocked it out with one shot, whereupon the bear showed fight. Blenn coolly pumped two more doses of lead into the advancing beast and finished it.

WILL FIGHT DRY LAW FOR ABOUT 10 YEARS

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 30.—"Enforcement of prohibition will have to run the gamut of court attack for at least ten years," says Ernest H. Cherrington, Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Anti-Saloon League. "The wets have ample funds and a strong legal battery. Every local case will become a national issue because wets will contest it," continued Cherrington. "A portion of the millions expected to be raised soon by the Anti-Saloon League for the future will be used to safeguard what has been accomplished in the United States through education, enforcement, progressive legislation and the election of legislators friendly to the dry cause."

BORING FOR OIL IN ANTELOPE VALLEY

With prospecting for oil now going on in the Antelope valley, many residents of Santa Ana and vicinity who own property in the valley are watching the progress of the well being sunk near Neenach with considerable interest. It is understood that hundreds of acres have been leased in the valley by oil companies and men organizing for the purpose of sinking wells. Long Beach capitalists are said to have acquired a considerable acreage under lease. Should oil be struck there it will open up a new and important field in Southern California. Operations are in a section where there has been no attempt to develop irrigation water, it is said, and sinking of the oil well will be of value to the district in locating water strata and in development of water even if oil is not found.

ORANGE CLUB IS EASY WINNER IN GAME

ORANGE, Dec. 30.—In a game marred by the poorest work of the season the local ball team defeated the fast Fort McArthur club on the El Modena grounds by a score of 8 to 3, Sunday. The locals, after playing shut-out ball all season, suddenly decided to take up football and their boots were a credit to any football team. Orange allowed the soldiers to fill the bases each inning through errors and then began to play ball with the result that the San Pedro men usually died on the bases. This tended to make the soldiers peevish and they were on the warpath through the entire game. While the locals had an off day in the field they were usually strong with the stick and saved their own game by their heavy hitting. Hinrichs pitched a good game despite poor support and once struck out three men with the bases loaded. Next Sunday Orange will play Lankersheim here. This club has also defeated the Graham and McArthur teams, so a hard game is expected.

The local line-up: Bob Mitchell, c; Dutch Hinrichs, p; Ralph Mitchell, 1b; Gowdy Potter, 2b; George Peterkin, ss; Forrest Ogan, 3b; F. Hughes, cf; Lynn Wallace, lf; Bert Hodson, rf.

IMPERIAL PUTS MONEY IN U. S. SECURITIES

EL CENTRO, Cal., Dec. 30.—A million and three quarters of idle money, mostly the proceeds of a bond issue, has been invested by Imperial County in United States Certificates of Indebtedness, which will net the county $72,000 a year or $6,000 a month as long as the statute providing that no bank shall receive cash funds to an amount in excess of fifty per cent of its capital and surplus, the money had been lying idle. Imperial county's innovation will, no doubt, be adopted by many other counties and school districts thruout the Twelfth Federal Reserve District which have county and district funds lying idle because small banks in outlying counties are unable to receive for deposit proceeds from bond issues. Even many of the biggest banks are compelled to refuse public deposits because they have already reached the limit provided by law.

Short Time Paper. Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness, the last issue, being for four and one-half per cent interest and running for six months, December 15 to June 15, are, as a rule, short time paper, making them particularly adaptable for the investment of county funds awaiting expenditure. Robert E. Smith, Director of the War Loan Organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, in a letter to County Treasurer Barton of Imperial county, said: "You are to be congratulated as a county official and personally on the businesslike manner in which you have employed the idle funds of Imperial county, which will not only net the county a handsome return, otherwise lost, but at the same time aid the government in financing its war debt. Other counties, not only in California but in every state of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, might well follow your example."

Severe Cold Quickly Cured. If you do not know how to get rid of a cold quickly, should you not consider the experience of others who have found a way of doing so? Mrs. H. O. Barker, Little Falls, N. Y., writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used by my husband a year or so ago and it quickly cured him of a severe cold."—Adv.

Milk at 25c Qt. Cheaper Than Funerals

More about milk

The question has been asked me repeatedly: "Does not all this fussing about milk inspection and cleaning up, make the cost of production of milk more expensive and hence the cost to the consumer higher?" My answer is, "Most decidedly." But milk at sixteen cents a quart, that is clean and safe, is cheaper than funerals.

Better Babies

In 1910, the death rate in California for babies under two years of age, was fifty per thousand. Last year, in the larger cities of the state where milk inspection has been rigidly enforced, the death rate had dropped to nine per thousand, and clean milk was the biggest factor in bringing about the change. During one year there were 5967 deaths, in the state, of children under five years of age.

Better Milk

Fewer Funerals

Those funerals cost the people of the state at least $596,700. That amount would pay for 2,386,800 quarts of milk, or would furnish one quart of milk a day to 6539 babies for a whole year. In other words, all the children who died and about six hundred more, could have been furnished with milk during that whole year, for what was paid to the undertaker, and many of those lives might have been saved, and the lonely homes that might now be listening to the childish prattle, had that money been paid to the right milk man instead of to the undertaker.

Santa Ana made an enviable record, during the world war, by going over the top many times, to furnish homes, food and clothing for the children of France, Belgium, Armenia and other suffering peoples. There may not be

Luxembourger Urges New Year War On Fires In S. A.

S. A. FOLK BAN 'NEVER AGAIN' AS SLOGAN FOR 1920

Resolutions For New Year Too Easily Broken, Say Many Local People

Alas, the strength of humankind is seldom to be trusted: Soon after New Year we will find our resolutions busted.

It is an easy thing to veer, And seem not to remember What we resolved for the New Year The last day of December.

It seems that Santa Anans, at least a majority of those who were interviewed on the subject, are unanimous as to one New Year's resolution they will make. It is this: That they will resolve not to make any.

Most of those who were asked for expressions of opinion relative to New Year's resolutions declared experience had taught them the apparent futility of resolving to do or not to do, a certain thing, when it is almost a foregone conclusion that before many days will have passed the resolution will have been conveniently forgotten.

In this connection it was pointed out that it might be interesting to know how deeply psychology enters into the subject of New Year's resolutions. Perhaps the current of an enterprise of such "great pit and moment" as making a New Year's resolution is turned away with the regard of conscience, that strange thing, or quality, which Shakespeare said makes "cowards of us all."

Old Leaves Easier Perhaps "the native hue of resolution" would not be "sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought" were it not that a majority of those who consider the possibility of turning over a new leaf have learned in the past that it is far easier and more pleasant to revert to the old leaves, with their familiar types, than to browse among unknown, and irksome, pages.

However, if all these factors work against the making of actual, concrete resolutions, still the very fact that a rosy and chubby young chap called Nineteen Twenty is about to arrive on the scene and put to rest a doddering old man named Nineteen Nineteen, is significant of new opportunities opening for mankind the world over. Chances are offered for leading better lives, for being kinder to others and, as Rev. W. L. Benton put it, to try, without any elaborate display of pyrotechnics, "to make the new year better."

In short, when a new year makes its appearance, it indicates that what has been disagreeable in our lives during the past twelve months is definitely behind us, and an attempt, however slight, toward making changes for the better during the coming twelve months, is commendable.

Break 'Em—Why Make 'Em? Mrs. Rolae G. Harris said, "I never make New Year's resolutions. I know I never keep them, so I never make any."

Mrs. F. L. Austin, when asked for an expression on New Year's resolutions, said, "I never make them, because I know I'll break them."

Mrs. N. A. Beals said, "I don't make them any more—principally, I think, because I know I will break them."

Rev. W. L. H. Benton: "New Year's resolutions are too easily broken. I haven't made any for years—except that I always resolve to try and make the new year better."

Mrs. Charles Bevis said, "I think it is a good idea to consider carefully what resolutions one does make, and not to make too many, in order that one may keep them."

L. W. Briggs said, "I have concluded not to make any this year."

Mrs. C. R. Browning said, "The one topic of conversation, almost, between my husband and myself recently has been about getting our automobile painted. So we have concluded to resolve, for the New Year, that both of us are to get busy and help one another paint the car."

Mrs. Fanny H. Collins said, "I never make New Year's resolutions, and never think about them."

Miss Hazel Collum said, "I had

'Uncas' Driven 150 Miles Off Course By 'Worst Storm'

THE schooner-yacht "Uncas" owned by John Bowers of Goldwyn pictures and now en route from New York City to Newport Harbor, was recently in the worst weather the Atlantic Coast has known for years, according to Captain P. H. L. (Doc) Wilson, in charge of the yacht party, in a letter written at Charleston, South Carolina, on Dec. 23.

"Arrived here after being five days overdue," writes Wilson to the Register. "We are experiencing the worst weather the Atlantic coast has known for years. We had to ride out a storm 36 hours to a sea anchor and were driven over 150 miles to sea out of our course. The weather is bitter cold and everybody and everything is freezing."

"We clear from Charleston harbor today for Jacksonville, Florida. Expect to get there on the afternoon of Christmas day."

Wilson sends best regards and Christmas and New Year's greetings to friends in Santa Ana and Newport Beach.

GEM LOSS, CRASH, NAILS IN TIRES AS JINX PROWL

Loser of a diamond stickpin valued at $100, of at least $10 in costs of repairing punctures in his automobile tires, and of additional costs in repairing the automobile itself, L. M. McCain, 1204 West Third street, today was on the trail of a persistent jinx which has been exasperatingly dogging his footsteps during the past few days.

Last night McCain's automobile was parked opposite the home of his brother-in-law, E. R. Abbey, 215 South Main street. McCain was visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Abbey. Suddenly a crash was heard outside in the street. An investigation revealed that an automobile driven by Miss Esther Otto, of Glorietta, had collided with McCain's car.

Whether or not part of McCain's troublesome jinx communicated itself to Miss Otto when her automobile came into contact with his is not known. At any rate, Miss Otto's car caught fire, the right front wheel was smashed and the front axle was bent. An alarm of fire was turned in and Fire Chief John Luxembourger dashed to the scene in his runabout, putting out the fire with an extinguisher.

And of course McCain's automobile was damaged in the crash. Today he was figuring up what the size of his repair bill would be when presented to him.

But all this does not complete the story of McCain's jinx. Yesterday, in some unknown manner he lost his diamond stickpin. In addition to this, several nights ago, some miscreant drove the tires of his automobile full of nails, while the machine was parked on East Fourth street, in the business section.

Now McCain is wondering what he has done to warrant a reprehensible jinx camping on his trail with such persistency.

This advice pertains to private stocks of liquors, wines and beers. Cellars are reported well filled and guarded and every assurance is given that the advice will be heeded. ## FRENCH TAKE STEPS TO PREVENT THEFTS

PARIS, Dec. 29.—The recent fire in the old royal palace at Compiègne has caused the Department of Fine Arts to take precautions against further fires or thefts in France's State palaces. Many locks are being placed on the doors of the Compiègne palace.

Reservoirs and tanks have been built on heights near the Versailles palace to guard against fire. New precautions against robbery have been taken at the Louvre, since the recent theft of a necklace. The interior courts will be kept lighted continuously. Dogs will be put into service to accompany the guards in their tours of inspection.

FINDS $5,500 IN MUD, IS SENT $500 REWARD

CHARLESTON, Ill., Dec. 30.—John Pritchard, a railroad employee, found $5,500 in currency in a mud hole along a street in Frankfort, near here. One check indicated the owner to be an Eastern capitalist, who lost the money while motoring through Frankfort. Pritchard communicated with the man, returned the sum and received $500 reward for his honesty.

ELKS, GREAT JINKS IS MUCH ENJOYED BY RECORD CROWD

In the annual "Christmas jinks" of the Santa Ana Elks' lodge last night, there was an occasion long to be remembered, as to its magnitude, the record attendance, and the enjoyment of all who participated. The first feature of the evening was a Christmas banquet of turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce, etcetera, and needless to say the enjoyment was complete. Over four hundred lodge members and visitors were fed, making this probably the biggest banquet ever held here. A general good time followed the feed, with a "forty-nine camp," and musical program by a male quartette from Los Angeles as two of the features.

During the evening more than a hundred books of selected poetry by Mrs. Edith Grensted Rochester, "From Star to Star," and dedicated to her son, Nathaniel Rochester, who fell in the Argonne forest with the "Lost Battalion," were sold. Half of the proceeds go into the Elks' memorial bell fund and half go to the fund which is to provide a Nat Rochester memorial in the Episcopal church here.

Fuller, automobile dealer and automobile stage-line operator in Southern California, for approval of a lease by which he desires to turn over the Orange Belt Line to the White Bus Line for a six months' period. The Orange Belt Line operates stages in Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and several other counties in the south.

TWO TIMBER WOLVES ARE KILLED ON FARM

ST. CHARLES, Mo., Dec. 30.—Two timber wolves were killed on the farm of John Zerr, at St. Peters, Mo., four miles north of St. Charles. Zerr and Frank Wiechens, a farmer, were standing in the barnyard on the Zerr farm when they saw a wolf run out of a timber lot near the barn and kill several chickens. Wiechens had a gun and killed the wolf as it was crossing the lot.

As there had been evidence of a number of wolves in the vicinity, Zerr and Wiechens went to St. Peters to organize a posse. While there they received word from Mrs. Zerr that another wolf was in the barnyard. Accompanied by several men they went back and Zerr shot the wolf, making a total of seven killed in that neighborhood in the past month.

Turkey dinner will be served New Year's Day at Huntington Inn, Huntington Beach. $1.00 per plate.

The Tennessee, which was launched on April 30, 1919, will be one of the largest and most powerful battleships afloat. She is 624 feet long and 97 feet wide at her widest part.

Her displacement will be about 32,000 tons with a horsepower of 20,000 and a speed of 21 knots per hour. The ship will be oil burning and electrically driven.

Armament of the Tennessee will consist of 12 14-inch guns, 14 5-inch guns and 4 6-pounders in addition to torpedo tubes. The crew necessary to man the great fighting craft will consist of fifty-eight officers and 1024 men.

FINE CAMP GROUND ON SHORE OF LAKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—A public camp ground, fronting directly on the shores of Lake Tahoe, and including such conveniences as boating and bathing piers, attractive free campsites with rustic tables and benches, pure water piped from a nearby mountain stream and a modern comfort station is now assured, according to L. A. Barrett, Assistant District Forester here.

"The area, which has just been made available through the generosity of former Congressman Wm. Kent of Kentfield, Cal., is one of the most attractive pieces of shore property to be found on Lake Tahoe," says Barrett.

"Originally a part of Mr. Kent's summer residence property, it has been donated to the Forest Service with the definite understanding that it be developed as, and devoted exclusively to, public camp ground purposes," he continued. In accordance with that agreement, and under plans as developed by a competent landscape and recreation engineer, the Tahoe Public Camp ground, as it has been named, will be improved at once.

"In fact approximately $1000.00 has already been spent in clearing out the underbrush, getting rid of down logs, etc. During May and June, it is planned to install a domestic water supply system. The water will be piped from Ward Creek, a little mountain stream nearly a mile distant. As rapidly as possible piers for bathing and boating, secondary roads and trails, tables, benches, and fireplaces will be built."

The entire camp ground will be fenced, so that campers will be unmolested by loose stock, according to forestry officials, and a children's playground, to be located on a portion of the shore frontage, will be featured. The Forest Service plans to station a ranger directly on the property—a man whose sole duty will be to look after the wants and conveniences of the visiting public.

The area is two miles south of Tahoe Tavern, on the west shore of the lake, and is directly on the highway.

SPOUTING WHALE IS SEEN CAVORTING IN NEWPORT VICINITY

Regular spouting whales have been seen spouting themselves at Newport Beach in the past few days, according to Santa Ana people—and they have not been drinking Christmas "toddlies," either.

According to a well known local man, who was at the beach Sunday, he saw a big monster come up near the Newport pier on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Goodykointz, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buchanan and Mr. and Mrs. Avery Graham of Newport saw the monster one day last week while they were boating on the ocean.

ROYALTY HELPS WRITE GREAT BIBLE BY HAND

LONDON, Dec. 30.—What is said to be the world's largest Bible now is being written by hand by leading men and women of the United Kingdom. Among those who are participating in the work are King George, Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales and the cabinet ministers.

The book will contain the complete text of the authorized version from Genesis to Revelations, and there is space in it for 12,000 handwritten contributions. It will be five feet two inches high, and three feet six inches wide.

This book will be exhibited in various places, the idea being to attract support to the Bible crusade in 1921.

"Originally a part of Mr. Kent's summer residence property, it has been donated to the Forest Service with the definite understanding that it be developed as, and devoted exclusively to, public camp ground purposes," he continued. In accordance with that agreement, and under plans as developed by a competent landscape and recreation engineer, the Tahoe Public Camp ground, as it has been named, will be improved at once.

PROPERTY LOSS IS $100,000 HERE DURING 6 MONTHS

Start 1920 Right By Battling Against Dangers, Councils Chief

Announcing that there had been sustained in Santa Ana during the six months beginning on July 1, of this year, a total loss of more than $100,000 from fire, Chief John Luxembourger today issued a statement calling on citizens to start the New Year right redoubting fire prevention measures.

In revealing this figure, Chief Luxembourger called attention to the fact that losses from fire in Santa Ana during the period extending from July 1, 1918, to July 1, 1919, totaled only $3000.

During the present month, Chief Luxembourger said, the fire department had been called upon to answer ten alarms of fire, which is a number greater than any known during any previous month in the history of the city.

"In view of the large number of alarms we have had to answer during December, and in view of the fact that fire losses in this city total more than $100,000 since July 1, of this year, I believe that the citizens of Santa Ana could make no better New Year's resolution than to determine to do all they can to cut down fires to a minimum," Luxembourger declared.

City Comparatively Lucky

"So far, this city has been comparatively lucky in the matter of fires. In several instances fires occurred that were in no way due to negligence on the part of property owners. For instance, in the case of the South Main street fires several weeks ago, the trouble was caused indirectly by wind, which raised a high voltage wire to come into contact with lines feeding residences. In that case, of course, the owners of the houses were not negligent."

"But there is no reason why people should not redouble their efforts to do everything possible to reduce to a minimum the number of things that might be conducive to starting dangerous fires. Weeds in vacant lots should be kept down at all times and property owners should see to it that trash and garbage around alleys and in the rear of residences is hauled away promptly."

Mr. Fancher had been a Buena Park resident for a number of years and during that time has been an active member of the Methodist church. He leaves a wife and two daughters, one of whom, Mrs. W. J. rather not be interviewed."

"I am going to stick to my old habits," declared Roy Vincent. "What's the use of making New Year resolutions and then breaking them?"

Billy Diers said: "What's the use! I haven't any bad habits, particularly, and should I make any kind of a resolution, I probably would step over it in a few days."

Sam Stein: "I have resolved to eat more and drink more (water) if possible. I certainly will do nothing that will tend to reduce my figure."

Chas Morris, bean buyer, said: "I am going to quit lying, even to my wife. I may have to tell my story in 'forty-seven different varieties' but I am going to stick to the truth, no matter how many different ways I have to develop it to bring home with force the fact that I am endeavoring to be truthful. No more 'white lies' for me after the date when the girls come into their own—Leap Year. I do hope the girls will not tempt me during the coming year by forcing the question as to whether I am a married man or not."

"My New Year resolution is going to be that I will continue to be a Democrat," said Geo. Edgar. "I have been traveling in this company for a good many years and all the good fellows have come my way and none are left on the other side, so why shouldn't I stay with my old party?"

Trying to Keep Old One

Dr. W. A. Flood: "I am trying still to keep a resolution I made the first of this year and will not take on new ones."

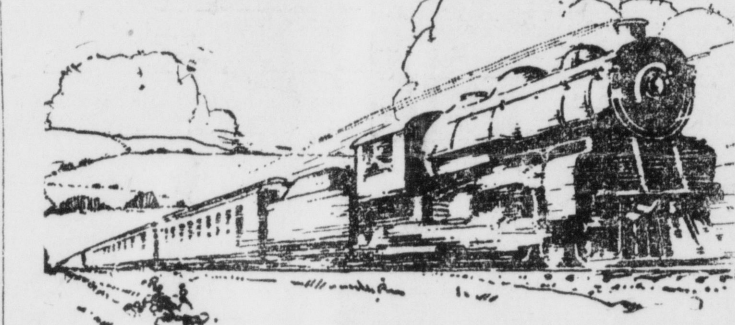

Roy Russell: "I quit smoking four years ago and my resolution is to continue smokeless."

Paul Knauf: "I have resolved to kick myself around a block every morning for not laying in a barrel of sour mash."

"Cheer up and go to it," is the resolution of C. C. Widney.

Jabe Hill: "I have no bad habits and I am going to help the other fellows out."

J. T. Kinslow, president of the "Skyloons" and of the "Janitors' Union": "I have resolved that hereafter in handling a real estate deal I am going to make sure that the advance of my selling it to another, I had just such an experience this week. I sold a client a piece of property only to find that the owner had sold it two weeks before."

A vast amount of work now remains to be done which the intervention of war has necessarily delayed and accumulated, and the result is that a very large capital expenditure ought to be made to make up for the interruption inevitably due to the war, and to prepare the railroads to serve adequately the increased traffic throughout the country.

WALKER D. HINES,
Director General of Railroads.

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can grow only as fast as the railroads grow.

E. H. Paddock, who has been quite ill for a week, was able to be out of doors yesterday for the first time.

Southern California

PASADENA, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Adolphus Busch, widow of the late St. Louis brewer, today announced a New Year's gift which will delight the hearts of thousands of visitors to the Tournament of Roses New Year's Day. It is that the famous Busch Gardens, formerly open to the public and closed last June by order of the owner, are again to be thrown open for four days, beginning with Thursday.

LINDSAY, Dec. 30.—Orange shipping in the Lindsay district proper has practically closed with the consignments of 1440 cars, which represents about 60 per cent of the total from Tulare county. This compares with 44 per cent last season.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 30.—A foot race by Special Policeman Delaney and V. S. Duval, a sailor, ended in the apprehension of the latter. Duval, the police report states, was breaking a bottle near Pine avenue and Broadway and stealing money.

deposited therein for charitable purposes. When Officer Delaney approached the man fled. The policeman is a member of the department's baseball team and noted as a base runner and he caught the sailor after a chase of almost a block.

VENTURA, Dec. 30.—Data is being gathered in this county on the Japanese situation, the amount of land owned, the number employed and the number of children in schools. The general survey will enlighten the Legislature as to the Japanese situation here. The records show that several citrus orchards in the Santa Paula and Fillmore districts are owned by them.

TULARE, Dec. 30.—More than $5000, which is available from an additional tax levy made last spring by the city officials is to be diverted to the water fund. An auxiliary pump is to be installed for the city water system, to increase the amount of water for domestic consumption.

PASADENA, Dec. 30.—The Home Telephone and Telegraph Company of Pasadena is to be called on the carpet by city officials to explain alleged poor and inadequate service. Complaints, which City Commissioner W. H. Reeves declares are of long duration and great frequency, against the local service were brought to a head by formal protest to the City Commission in behalf of the local feed and fuel dealers.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 30.—Oulja boards and the Y. W. C. A. were attacked Sunday by Dr. George M. Rourke, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. As a result, Y. W. C. A. members are up in arms. The pastor is said to have urged the congregation not to subscribe to the Y. W. C. A. drive, because the girls consult oulja boards. Miss Lena Cook, secretary, characterized his remarks as "ridiculous and uncalled for."

How to Judge the Safety of Securities

"The great danger in depending too much on recommendation of 'friends' cannot be too strongly emphasized. The great mass of investors do not rely upon their judgment of the real value of securities, and do not even care to know facts."

Magazine of Wall Street, Nov. 29, 1919.

THE value of securities can only be determined by expert analysis. If you cannot or will not make such an investigation yourself, you must depend upon a reliable investment house to do so for you.

If you will ask your banker you will find that this firm has a reputation which is second to none for integrity and for giving honest, dependable service to investors.

We do not pretend to be able to give you "tips" on how to get rich quickly. We can help you to invest your funds in amounts of $100 or more so that your money will be safe and you can obtain a reasonable income. Write, call or telephone for our latest list of investment securities.
